

ING's response to court ruling on admissibility of Milieudefensie claims

- The court has decided that Milieudefensie is admissible to bring its claims. We have noted that decision.
- This was a procedural step, focused on admissibility only.
- The substance of the claims will be handled later.
- It does not change the fact that we find Milieudefensie's demands unreasonable, unrealistic, and not in line with our role as a bank in the transition.
- We look forward to demonstrating that to the court and will not let a lengthy legal case distract us from the work on our science-based climate approach.
- We will continue to support clients in their transition and continue to finance renewable energy and other solutions needed for a low-carbon economy.
